This is a listing of all known books pertaining to the history of veterinary medicine in the United States and Canada published from 1900s to date.

Books have been organized into four categories:

- U.S. National Histories
- State Histories, including veterinary colleges and veterinary medical associations
- Canadian National Histories
- Provincial Histories

ACCESS: The majority of the early hard copy titles are no longer "in print" and thus are unavailable for sale. Some original copies and/or reprints may be purchased from out-of-print book dealers. In some cases, copies may be consulted at veterinary college libraries by appointment or requested via interlibrary loan services.

Fortunately, many of the pre-1923 titles have been digitized from university libraries and other collections making them presently accessible as electronic versions from repositories, such as the HathiTrust Digital Library and Internet Archive.
