

History of the Contest

This essay contest was established in 1991 in honor of Dr. J. Fred Smithcors (Cornell 1945), AVMHS co-founder as well as noted teacher, researcher, historian, author, and publisher.

Its purposes are to encourage veterinary students to research, write about, and appreciate the rich heritage of their profession.

Serving as its first chair for more than eight years, Dr. Robert R. Shomer was instrumental in organizing the contest and obtaining initial corporate support. For 15 years until about 2010, the prizes were funded by Merck & Company which also contributed copies of the Merck Veterinary Manual to all entrants.

Since 2012, grants from the Donaldson Charitable Trust have made it possible to award four prizes in honor of Dr. Elizabeth Atwood Lawrence, twice AVMHS president and former essay contest judge.

2022
31st Annual Essay Contest
All Entries must be received by 15 April 2022

As of the 30th annual contest held in 2021, a total of 489 essays have been received with 101 prizes awarded.

Our continuing goal is to have one or more essays submitted by students from all of the veterinary colleges in North America each year.

Smithcors Student Veterinary History Essay Contest

Students currently enrolled in a D.V.M. program at any veterinary college in the United States, Canada, and West Indies are encouraged to submit one or more essay manuscripts to this annual contest sponsored by the American Veterinary Medical History Society.

The Dr. Elizabeth Atwood Lawrence cash prizes include: $1,200, $1,000, $800, and $500 for the top four entries.

All essays will be evaluated anonymously by a panel of three or four blinded AVMHS judges.

All participants will receive a free, one-year membership in the Society that includes two issues of AVMHS's semi-annual journal, Veterinary Heritage.

Dr. Elizabeth Atwood Lawrence

The AVMHS reserves the right to publish meritorious essays in its journal.

More than one essay may be submitted each year, but only one prize will be awarded per individual per year. Candidates who have previously submitted essays and/or won a prize, continue to be eligible until graduation.

How to Submit an Essay

Detailed guidelines for eligibility, topic suggestions, essay evaluation criteria, and other submission information, as well as an entry form can be found on the AVMHS Web site at <http://avmhs.org>

- Numbered pages should be typed, double-spaced in 12-point Times or equivalent font, including the bibliography.
- Papers should be approx. 5 to 15 pages long, but not more than 3,500 words (exclusive of illustrations, maps, photos, and references). [Do not include your name or school on manuscript pages]
- Complete an entry form that includes a permanent address.
- Attach pdfs of your essay manuscript and entry form as separate files in an email message to Dr. Garrett by April 15, 2022 (midnight).
- Retain an original Word copy for your files and possible future publication in Veterinary Heritage.

Guidelines for Submission

Only historical and veterinary topics will be considered. Examples include (but are not limited to): — Development of treatments, techniques and/or research; — Instruments;

— Biologicals or pharmaceuticals; — Diseases or surgery; — Species emphasis; — Biographical information (deceased individuals only); — Veterinary colleges and institutions;— Legislation; — Public health issues; — Veterinary medicine in literature, art or society.

Winning essays will be rigorously researched, have a clear historical subject and argument, and be written to tell a story in a way that stimulates the reader's interest.
